

Services Held For Carl Pace

College Student Buried at Loa, Where He Had a Host of Relatives and Friends

Loa, May 6.—The relatives of Carl Pace arrived here with the body on the fourth instant. Mention has heretofore been made in the papers of the sudden departure from this life of the young man while attending the State Agricultural College at Logan. The faculty and student body of the College as well as the kindred and a host of friends mourn the loss of so promising a life upon earth.

The funeral services were held today in the stake tabernacle at Loa. Professor Lorin Merrill of the College was in attendance representing that institution. The floral offerings of relatives and friends and the college students and faculty were profuse and beautiful. The singing rendered under the direction of Stake Chorister James Hood, was comforting and appropriate. A solo, "Sometime We'll Understand," was beautifully rendered by Viola Taylor, and with much feeling Frances G. Callahan sang, "Face to Face."

ing Frances G. Callahan sang, "Face to Face."

Professor Merrill read resolutions of respect and esteem from the college students, and in words of loving sympathy commented upon the upright life of the young man, his ambition to succeed and win for himself a place of usefulness among his fellowmen. His words were a solace to the bereaved, and the thoughtfulness of the College in sending so worthy a representative was greatly appreciated by the relatives and people of Wayne county, generally. Other speakers at the funeral were Elder William Meeks, of Thurber; Niels C. Peterson, James Hood and President Joseph Eckersley. Elder William H. Callahan offered the opening prayer and Elder Michael Hanson pronounced the benediction. The choir rendered a beautiful and impressive selection at the cemetery, and President Eckersley offered the dedicatory prayer. There was a very large attendance from the several towns of eastern Wayne county which was an evidence of the love and esteem the people cherish for him.

Carl Pace was the son of the late Willard and Lydia Okerlund Pace, and was born at Loa, Utah, September 2, 1893, and died at Logan, Utah, May 1, 1914. He is survived by two brothers, Vernon W. and Otto Pace, and a sister Alta Pace, all of Loa, and many other relatives and a host of friends. He was of a charming disposition, honest and true, beloved by all, despised by none. He has gone to continue his work in the spirit world, and his good works will follow him.
